THE ERA OF NATURAL DIAMONDS IS ENDING

Natural diamond Market shows serious cracks from
The new ERA of LAB DIAMONDS

THE FALL OF THE OLDGUARD

Natural diamonds are slipping. margins are thinning customers are evolving. But one brand is rewriting the playbook - ASHTH.

Declining natural diamond sales

The customer no longer asks,
‘Is it natural?’ They ask, ‘Why should
I pay more for the same carbon crystal?’

FROM DOUBT TO DOMINANCE.

Lab - Diamonds are no longer the future they are the present.
And they are outselling natural in major markets.

Mukesh Shah
Founder, Ashth

“Ashth was founded to make fine diamond jewellery accessible, ethical, and future-ready. With decades in the diamond industry, I’ve seen firsthand how lab-grown diamonds have evolved to offer the same brilliance and beauty—at a fraction of the cost and environmental impact. Just like an IVF baby, their origin may differ, but their essence is identical. At Ashth, we aim to be the most trusted lab-grown diamond brand in India—where every customer can proudly say, Mine. Not Mined.”

“At Ashth, we don’t just offer jewellery—we offer a brand experience backed by consistency, quality, and trust. From high-standard craftsmanship and rigorous quality checks to strong marketing support and sales staff training, we ensure our retail partners have everything they need to succeed. When customers walk in asking for Ashth by name, that’s loyalty you can count on.”
